THE name Koyuna is making a strong impression in the Australian show-horse scene.

In the elite lists for eventing and showjumping, several horses are linked to the famous Australian Koyuna Souvenir bloodline.

The elite showjumping squad has Becky Allen's Koyuna Ted and in the national development showjumping squad is Wendy Schaeffer's Koyuna Sunset and Sunstorm.

In the elite eventing squad Wendy Schaeffer has Koyuna Sun Dancer, Koyuna Sun Shine and Koyuna Sun Magic and in the development squad is Amanda Howell's Koyuna Tora Bora.

The Westernport Dressage Club met at Treehaven on the Mornington Peninsula last weekend. Justine Waddick had a great day with AEA Fairmont, winning both preliminary tests.

It was good to see ponies competing, with Melissa Denerez's Mirinda Sabrina winning the pony preliminaries and Arkie Daddo winning the pony novice with FS Gold Storm. Melissa Davies with Jaybee Cartier was the novice championship winner, scoring first in one test and second in another to Jodie Barns on Riverlights.

Kerryn Connors did the same in the elementary level with her mare Aleysha, winning one test and placing second to Georgina Cattermole and Bellaire Cannervaro (imp) in the other. Caroline Coleby on Jaybee Don Grande took the championship.

The EFA National Selectors have published the mid-year updates for the elite and national squads.

The elite dressage squad is Hayley Beresford's Relampago De Retiro, Kristy Oatley's Don Bolero and Quando Quando, Brett Parbery's Victory Salute, Heath Ryan's Regardez Moi and Rachael Sanna's Jaybee Alabaster.
